LKTYP presents The Ensemble '11 in Breaking Away

The Lorraine Kimsa Theatre for Young People's Ensemble is getting ready to present their year-end production of Breaking Away, directed by Mark Cassidy. Created by the 2011 student Ensemble, this exciting new work will be presented in the Studio from May 4 to 7.

Murphy is nearing the end of grade 12 when the protective shell she always felt was there for her starts to crack. Her parents are constantly fighting and her twin sister Michelle has become dedicated to a life of partying. Venturing forth from her increasingly isolating home life, Murphy meets an eclectic mix of young people whose own struggles lead her to a greater understanding of the community she is a part of, and of the person and artist she wants to become.

The Ensemble is a Senior Drama School program for students in Grade 9 through 12 with a strong background in theatre who seek experience with a professional theatre company. This intensive and specialized program provides selected students with an opportunity to train with like-minded young artists from across the city. While in residence at LKTYP, students develop, rehearse and perform a production in our Studio Theatre as part of our season. The Ensemble is about creating theatre by young people for young people.
